

2010 POLICE DRIVER TRAINERS' SEMINAR - BIOS

JEFF EGGLESTON

Senior Law Enforcement Training Officer
Office of the Ohio Attorney General Richard Corday
Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy (O.P.O.T.A.)

Mr. Eggleston will provide information on the mechanics of the PIT (Precision Immobilization Technique)

Topics of discussion will include:

- >The legal considerations as they exist in the United States;
- >Examples and videos of the PIT being used by officers trained at O.P.O.T.A.
- >Current trends in forcible stops
- >Discussions of other techniques such as rolling and stationary road blocks, vehicle intercepts, channeling and the use of tire deflation devices.

This will be a theoretical presentation which will culminate in each attendee receiving a certificate of completion.

SERGEANT TREVOR ARNOLD

Peel Regional Police Career Development

Generation Gap – Motivation and leadership in a 4 generational cohort workplace:

For the first time in history we have 4 generations working together at the same time, presenting challenging problems for the managers and leaders of the future. This presentation will look at how those generational cohorts were formed and how that understanding can contribute to better leadership. With a focus on motivation, the presentation will demonstrate that cohesion in the workplace is achievable and an organization is much stronger when we all work together.

STOP STICK INC.

MR. ROB WILLIAMS from STOP STICK INC and MR. DON WATCH (Ontario Police Supplies) will deliver their presentation of the safe deployment of the stop stick. They will speak on the current trends on the present use of the product within North America.

At the conclusion of this session each attendee will receive certification of successful completion of this Train the Trainer program.

COGNIFIT

PATRICK MATHIEU from Young Drivers of Canada will offer insight into CogniFit; how it relates to driving as a pre-hiring tool for applicants, and its uses for developing the cognitive abilities of existing drivers in your organization. This program is based on a system founded in Israel and has been successfully utilized within Young Drivers of Canada for the past 5 years. Their organization applies the screening/training to both students and instructors.

CAPTAIN TRAVIS YATES

Tulsa Police Department, Oklahoma.

Those of you who were fortunate enough to attend the 2007 seminar already know of 'Travis' knowledge and prowess as a dynamic speaker, others may be familiar with him through the Police Driving.com website which he owns and moderates.

Travis has many years of background in police training and will present a refreshing approach to training that puts the "decision-making" aspect ahead of solely skill-based training. During his presentation he will show videos that elaborate on this approach.

A training method that uses just 15 minutes a day and which is scenario based will be introduced. This method has a focus on cognitive skills; rather than just the performance aspect.
